

Defining your lifetime purpose.

What were you put on this planet to create, build, share or have an impact on?

What would you like to achieve that is bigger than you, outside of you and will live on after you?

What unique talent of yours would you like to share with the people who matter in your world?

What is important to you, matters to you and is meaningful to you?

If you could make one difference to people who connect with you what would it be?

What would you like to be known and famous for, to the people who matter the most to you?

Fast forward your life to the age of 90 ... looking back on your life, what would you be most proud of?

What do you believe your PURPOSE is?

What will you be known for? Your purpose, passion or untapped potential?
